my book is a collection of poems and lyrics that i started writing about 30 years ago and finally decided to put on something more permanent i like to write about the inequalities that seems to permeate throughout our country from the racial ignorance and bigotry or the fact that the people that are supposed to represent us seem to never have our collective interest at heart we never challenge the things we know to be true or false anymore lies that damage our country should never be tolerated nor repeated we need to demand honesty and accountability from all elected officials i write what i feel and what i see as an assault on all of us and on our democracy

new stories from the midwest presents a collection of stories that celebrate an american region too often ignored in discussions about distinctive regional literature the editors solicited nominations from more than 300 magazines literary journals and small presses and narrowed the selection to 19 authors the stories written by midwestern writers or focusing on the midwest demonstrate that the quality of fiction from and about the heart of the country rivals that of any other region guest editor john mcnally introduces the anthology which features short fiction by charles baxter dan chaon christopher mohar rebecca makkai lee martin and others funny razor sharp and full of juicy tales that feel urgent and illicit the author has created a singular resonant voice an american teenager raised by old world afghan storytellers new york times book review more than well crafted it s phenomenal kochai s book has a big heart the guardian a dog on the loose a boy yearning to connect to his family s roots a country in the midst of great change and a vibrant exploration of the power of stories the ones we tell each other and the ones we find ourselves in twelve year old marwand s memories from his previous visit to afghanistan six years ago center on his contentious relationship with budabash the terrifying but beloved dog who guards his extended family s compound in the rural village of logar but eager for an ally in this place that is meant to be home marwand misreads his reunion with the dog and approaches budabash the way he would any pet on his american suburban block and the results are disastrous marwand loses a finger and budabash escapes into the night marwand is not chastened and doubles down on his desire to fit in here he must get the dog back and the resulting search is a gripping and vivid adventure story a lyrical funny and surprisingly tender coming of age journey across contemporary afghanistan that blends the bravado and vulnerability of a boy s teenage years with an homage to familial oral tradition and calls to mind one thousand and one nights yet speaks with a voice all its own
